ORDERS ARE ISSUED TO ASSESSORS

In Districts to Call Meetings Of the County and Ward Assessors as Usual

NO OFFICIAL ATTENTION PAID BEITLER BILL'S FATE.

ADMINISTRATION'S PLANS

To Dismiss All Tax Officials Appointed By Governor Cox, Under the Warnes Law, Are In Abeyance, As Governor Willis is Wavering Between Arguments for and Against.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Columbus, March 29.—Orders to district tax assessors were being prepared in the state tax commission's office today asking that meetings of all deputy district assessors who work in wards and townships, be called for next Saturday. Officially no attention was paid by the tax commission to the prospective fate of the Beitler taxation bill, which will come up for final consideration on conference committee report in both houses of the legislature tomorrow.

Neither was the tax commission giving any heed to reports that arrangements have been made by the Democratic state organization for wholesale resignations of Democratic tax assessors for the sake of embarrassing the Republican administration. The governor's office still was much concerned by what were termed "authentic reports," that scores of district assessors and ward and township assessors have prepared their resignation papers and that these will be held until the latter part of week.

At the governor's office it was said the administration plans for retaining or removing all district tax officials appointed under the administration of Governor Cox and replacing them with Republicans, would be held in abeyance until after tomorrow, when the fate of the Beitler bill will be determined.

It is said Governor Willis still is wavering between arguments that the Democratic assessors appointed under the Warnes law will take less interest in keeping the tax duplicate this year up to the size of last year in order to discredit the Republican administration, and claims that the same assessors will take double interest this year in maintaining the big duplicate in order to justify the Warnes law.

The determination of the tax commission to call meetings in every county Saturday for the assessing of officials, although the actual date for beginning work is the following Monday, April 5, was said to have for its purpose partly to determine in advance what kind of co-operation could be expected from these officials appointed by the last Democratic administration.

GOVERNMENT FILES BRIEF IN BIG CASE

Contention Made That Harvester Company Has Dangerous Tendencies

AND CONTRAVENES U. S. ANTI-TRUST STATUTE

INDEPENDENT COMPANIES

That Might Be Competitors By the Workings of the Big Combination Have Become Merely Negligible Factors in the Manufacture of Harvesting Machinery in America.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Washington, March 29.—The government's brief in the anti-trust suit to dissolve the International Harvester company, was filed in the supreme court today. It is largely directed toward combating the arguments advanced in the company's brief filed in support of its appeal after the district court for Minnesota had declared it a combination in restraint of trade, and ordered its dissolution.

"If defendants' argument prevails," says the government brief, "if corporate combinations, however comprehensive, do not come within the purview of the act unless and only so far as they demonstrably abuse their power—the inevitable result will be the removal of that great rush toward concentration which proceeded with ever accelerating rapidity, until checked by the decision of this court in the Northern Securities case."

"If makers of harvesting machinery may unite as here, why may not makers of every other species of machinery do likewise? And why may not all these lesser combinations be integrated into one superior combination of all the metal working industries?"

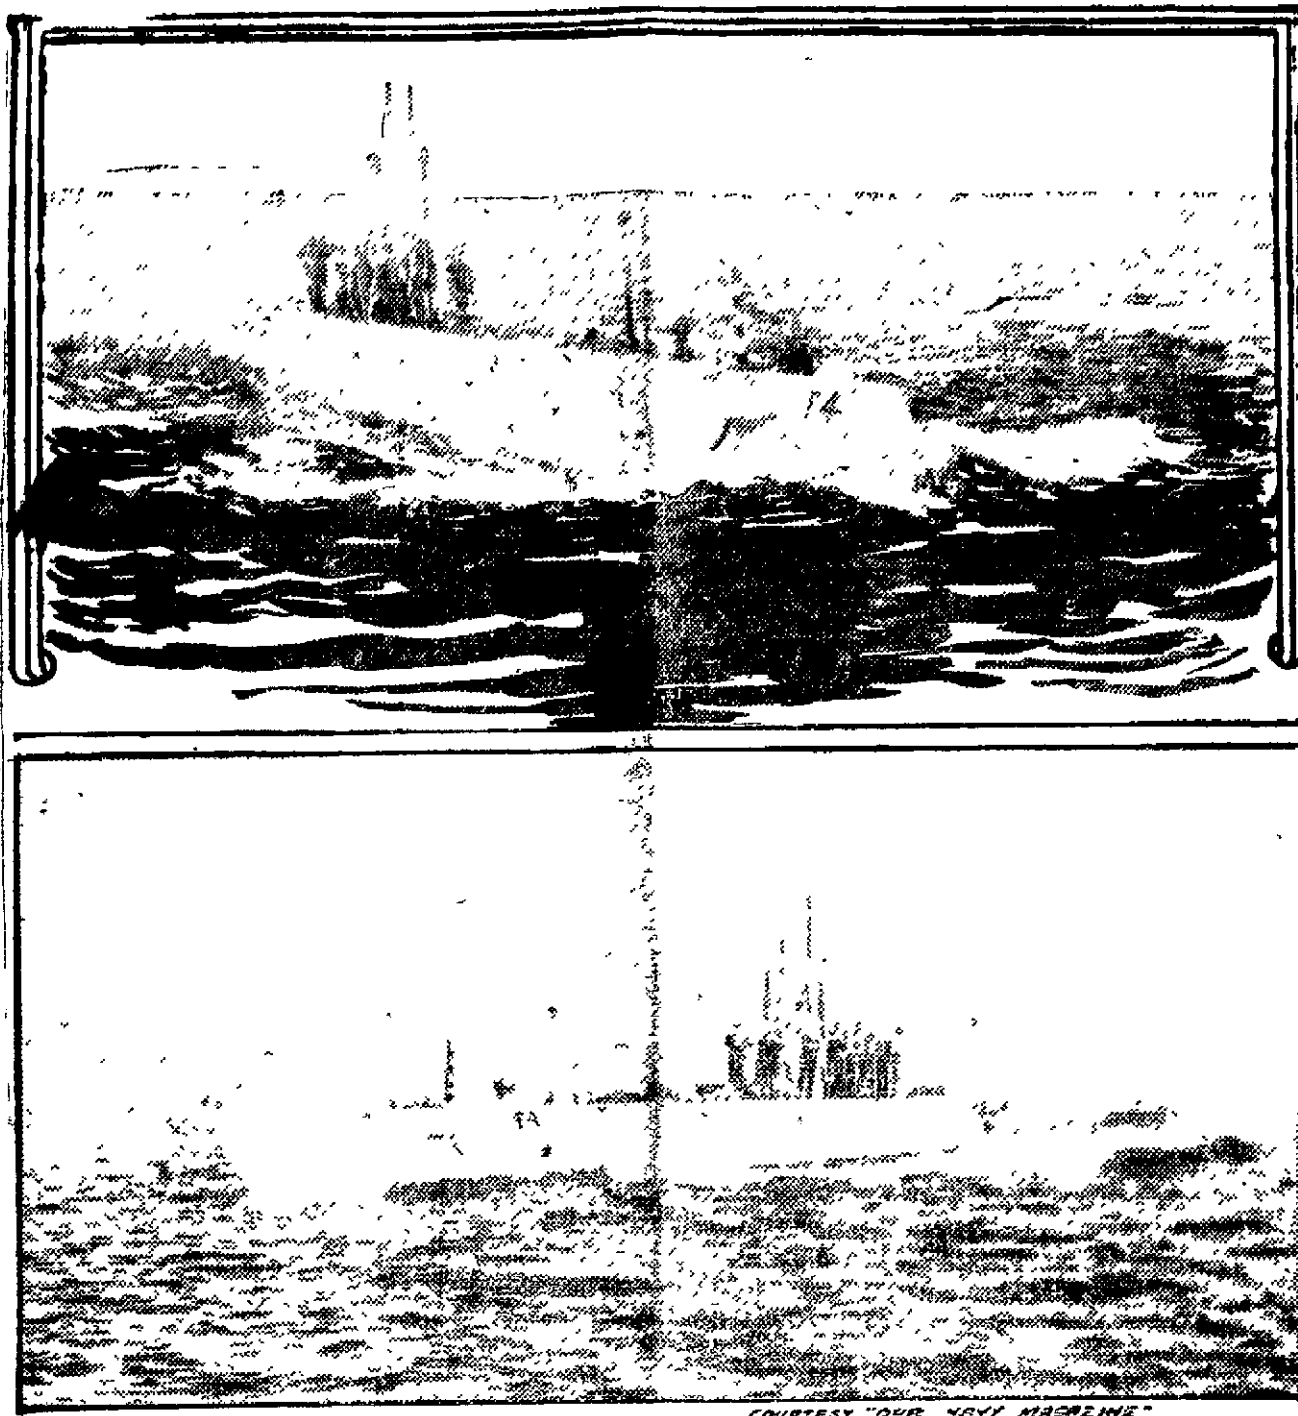

"What would prevent, indeed, the creation of combinations with power to control the market for every necessity of life—food, coal, oil, metal, textile fabrics, etc.—or alliances between all these combinations under the control of a few great masters of industry?"

"The desire for promoters' profits, the desire to escape from the weight of competition, the natural gravitation of power into the hands of the powerful, and the desire for more power which great power engenders, these motives would still be adequate to produce such concentration, even assuming that prices, etc., could be rigidly controlled."

"The anti-trust act—the work of perhaps the ablest judiciary committee that ever sat in either branch of congress, is the deliberate effort of conservatism, clear thinking men to place some reasonable check upon that liberty of combination, which, if permitted to be 'logically extreme,' would in the end imperil liberty itself."

"The controversy in this case, therefore, is fundamental. The question, is shall the competition system continue."

—shall "competition, not combination be the law of trade?"

The brief says that the defendants claim that while one time competitors controlling from 80 to 85 percent of the trade in the United States in harvesting machines were combined in substantially the manner which the government contends, the object was not restraint of trade, but to promote foreign trade, of established domestic trade on a more economic basis. Upon these statements, the government says, and upon its good conduct the "whole defense rests."

Statistics are given to demonstrate that the harvester company "has retarded rather than accelerated the foreign trade in harvesting machines."

The government declares that three companies named by the defendant as formidable competitors, which have entered the field since its organization "are practically negligible as factors in the harvesting machine business in the United States."

MARVIN HART WILL RETURN TO THE RING AFTER TEN YEARS.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Louisville, Ky., March 29.—Ten years after he won a 20-round bout from Jack Johnson, Marvin Hart, heavyweight pugilist of Louisville, yesterday announced his intention to return to the prize ring. March 28, 1905, he was awarded the decision over Johnson at San Francisco. Hart's last fight was in 1911 when he was knocked out by Carl Morris, in three rounds at Sapulpa, Okla. Since his retirement, Hart has been serving as a deputy sheriff in Jefferson county. He says he feels as strong as ever and is in excellent condition. Hart's age is 38.

Carranza Reinforcements Arriving; War Department Believes Forces At Brownsville Now, Will be Ample

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Brownsville, Texas, March 29.—There was no fighting at Matamoros today up to this afternoon. Reports from both sides indicated that the battle between Villa besiegers and the Carranza garrison would not be renewed before tomorrow.

Colonel Jose Flores, of the Matamoros garrison announced today that Carranza reinforcements disembarked at the mouth of the Rio Grande from the transport Oaxaca yesterday and that they were expected to reach Matamoros today. The Oaxaca was the first steamer to unload at the mouth of the Rio Grande in 25 years. She had great difficulty

PRINZ EITEL MAY MAKE A DASH TO SEA

AMERICAN BATTLESHIP ORDERED TO HAMPTON ROADS TO ENFORCE NEUTRALITY

Warships of Allied Nations Lying in Wait off Virginia Capes for German Cruiser.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Washington, March 29.—With the time limit fixed for the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich to make repairs at Newport News nearing expiration, with the battleship Alabama on her way from Philadelphia to Hampton Roads to enforce American neutrality, interest was renewed here today in any move that Commander Thierichens of the vessel might make. He must soon either renew his merchant raiding expedition, in the face of warships of the allied nations which are waiting off the Virginia Capes to capture her, or intern his ship until the end of the European war. The Prinz Eitel was reported still at her dock at Newport News early today with smoke pouring from her funnels.

Possibility that the Prinz Eitel would soon make a dash for the open sea, it is believed, caused the dispatch of the Alabama to Hampton Roads on neutrality duty, although officials here have thought that Commander Thierichens would ask for government permission to intern his vessel. One report said that the Prinz Eitel would be towed to New York within the three mile limit to be interned there. In that case the Alabama would be on guard.

HURRY ORDERS GIVEN ALABAMA TO PROCEED TO HAMPTON ROADS.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Philadelphia, March 29.—The battleship Alabama, which was given hurry orders Saturday night to sail to Hampton Roads to enforce American neutrality, left the Philadelphia navy yard at 9 a. m. today. The battleship is well stocked with provisions and has aboard a large supply of ammunition and coal.

The Alabama was in reserve when the order came an dhad on board only a skeleton crew. This necessitated the drafting of men from the battleships Kentucky, Kearsarge, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin. The navy yard made a record in getting the Alabama away. When the order came Saturday night, many of the officers and enlisted men were on shore leave. The Philadelphia police assisted in notifying those off duty and in getting workmen to help make the ship ready for sea.

DEFINITE STEPS WILL BE TAKEN TO SEND OUT OR INTERNE PRINZ EITEL.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Newport News, Va., March 29.—The Prinz Eitel Friedrich, still lay at her dock today, apparently no more prepared to make a dash for sea than at any other time during the last week, but the activities all around her convinced local officials that some definite step soon would be taken either to intern the raider or send her out.

The elusive report current in army and navy circles that Commander Thierichens was ready to go, but awaited assurances that the United States would protect him within the three mile limit from the hostile cruisers which have been blocking every lane out past the Virginia Capes, would not down.

Other than two torpedo boats and one submarine, daylight disclosed no other American ships in the waters, although battleships were reported throughout the night gathering to protect American neutrality.

The time limit of the Eitel's stay was still an official secret but there was a well-defined report that it expires within the next 48 hours. One report that the Eitel will be towed to New York within the three mile limit is not taken seriously by officials, who believe her draft even though now light, would not permit her to navigate so close to the shores.

COURT IS TO DECIDE BETWEEN CHILD'S REAL AND FOSTER PARENTS.

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Columbus, March 29.—The supreme court today was asked to decide whether the real parents or the foster parents of a child are entitled to damage payments resulting from the accidental death of child Emory Ransome, administrator of the estate of the late Fred C. Ransome, brought the case up from the appellate court of Ashtabula county, where he lost, the court holding the real parents of the child should receive the damages, which the New York Central railway was ordered to pay.

NO HOPE FOR CREW OF THE SUNKEN F-4

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Washington, March 29.—The last hope that any of the submarine F-4's crew might be alive has been abandoned by the navy department and today acting Secretary Blue ordered Rear Admiral Moore, commanding the Honolulu naval station, to report the exact location of the sunken boat and the depth at which she lies that the department may estimate the probability of salvaging the hull and recovering the bodies of her commander and crew.

No advice on the disaster have come to the department since Friday night when Admiral Moore reported that the boat was in fifty fathoms of water.

GERMAN NAVY IN BALTIC SUFFERS SEVERE LOSSES

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Petrograd, Via London, March 29.—Severe losses have been inflicted upon the German naval units in the Baltic Sea, by the Russians, according to a semi-official review of the operations there made public last night. German submarines are said to have suffered considerably while a number of transports loaded with supplies have been destroyed. The statement follows:

"Early in September, the activity of our fleet in the southern Baltic compelled the enemy to modify his stand and concentrate his chief efforts upon operations by submarines. Nineteen of these attacks were made in two months, but only one was successful. Enemy submarines suffered considerably."

"Our fleet has developed intense activity along the enemy's coast. Details of the operations cannot be published yet, but the enemy suffered heavy losses in fighting units and has been seriously impeded in the operations along his own coasts by the losses of a number of transports with munitions."

Miss Tanzer Has Admitted A Mistake In Identifying Osborne; Case May Drop

(Associated Press Telegram.)
New York, March 29.—Miss Rae Tanzer, who is suing James W. Osborne, former assistant district attorney of New York for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise, was mistaken in her identification of Mr. Osborne as the man who wooed her under the name of Oliver Osborne, according to Harold A. Speilberg, who announced today that he had been retained by Miss Tanzer as her counsel.

Speilberg conferred with U. S. District Attorney Marshall today and later said Miss Tanzer would be produced at Mr. Marshall's office and announce that she was mistaken.

The mistake, Mr. Speilberg said, was wholly due to Miss Tanzer, and Speilberg, her former lawyers, were in no way connected with the erroneous identification further than conducting her case.

Assistant District Attorney Wood corroborated Mr. Speilberg, Mr. Wood admitted that the woman witness upon whom the government relied to shatter Miss Tanzer's charges was none other than Miss Tanzer herself.

After his conference with Messrs. Marshall and Wood, Mr. Speilberg left the federal building, saying that he was going to Miss Tanzer and would produce her shortly before the district attorney. It was understood that Miss Tanzer was prepared to tell the district attorney that she alone was responsible for identifying James W. Osborne as Oliver Osborne, author of the letters which she charges she received from her admirer.

Whether the government's investigation of the charges against Miss Tanzer would stop there was unknown. Miss Tanzer is at liberty under $5,000 bond on a charge of using the mails to defraud. This is an outgrowth of her suit against James W. Osborne for $50,000 damages.

Miss Tanzer told Mr. Wood that she became aware of her mistake last Thursday for the first time. While she was sitting in the office of U. S. Commissioner Houghton, awaiting the signing of her bond, she said, Mr. Osborne came in and she saw him "under a strong light" for the first time.

When she realized her error, Miss Tanzer said, her first impulse was to tell Commissioner Houghton who had talked with her in a fatherly way. An interruption prevented her from doing so and she told her brother when she went home. Her brother then told Mr. Speilberg. The bondsman furnishing Miss Tanzer's bond of $5,000 it was learned today, is the firm which employed her as a milliner.

CAPITAL OF TURKEY NOW THREATENED

Russia Knocking at the Back Door by Bombarding The Bosphorus Forts

(Associated Press Telegram.)
London, March 29.—Russia is again today knocking at the back door of Constantinople by bombarding the Turkish forts on the Bosphorus, but with what success is not yet definitely known. As to the front door of the Turkish capital, the Dardanelles, the only news is the monotonous reiteration of the report that the mine sweepers of the allies are continuing their work and that weather conditions still prevent a resumption of the bombardment by the fleet.

Constantinople, however, declines to accept the weather as an excuse for the lull in the attack and claims that since March 18, weather conditions have been so good the Turkish aeroplanes have been flying over the warships of the allies in and about the Dardanelles. Unofficial reports from neutral ports in the vicinity of the scene of operations indicate an early resumption of activity. They set forth that a long distance shelling of the inner defenses have been commenced by the battleships.

Reviewing Russian naval activity in the Baltic, Petrograd claims that the operations on this sea of Russian warships have resulted in damage to several German units, and that the Germans have been compelled materially to restrict their movements.

German submarines have been active off the English and Irish coasts and the liner Falba, reported in distress in the Bristol channel may be one of the victims of their raid.

From a diplomatic standpoint, observers in London are speculating hopefully on the reorganization of the Balkan league but nevertheless, it is felt that the visit to Bulgaria of Field Marshal von der Goltz, until recently at Constantinople, may check the reconciliation of this state with her neighbors.

Will Assist In Keeping Tax Rates Down

The proposition before us is not the construction of a new electric plant as is the impression with some, it is simply installing electrical generating machinery in addition to our water works plant for producing electric current to supply our city. It will be operated by the force that is needed to operate the waterworks plant independent of it, therefore, will not add any additional expense in labor cost of operation, and will not in any way complicate our city affairs as to government or require any exceptional ability over what is required to operate our water works plant, which cost $560,000 against which there is no complaint as to management, so that all the reference as to special ability required by reason of the addition to our water works plant is misleading.

As to raising the tax rate, we desire to call the voters' attention to the fact there will be $60,000 of city bonds retired this year, which is twice the amount required to install the proposed machinery. It is apparent that the argument relative to raising tax rate is in the main misleading.

The real issue, Mr. Voter, is taxing the consumer of this city which has one-sixth the population supplied by the Ohio Light & Power Company, one-sixth of the amount required to pay five per cent interest on the $30,000,000 blanket mortgage and dividends to the stockholders.

That Ohio Light & Power Company's CITIZEN and some of the opposition have resorted to, the always contemptible effort, to distort the public's mind from the real issue by casting a reflection upon one of our citizens who is above reproach and making false statements as to the cost of producing current, which we are in a position to prove is true.

Why is the Ohio Light & Power Company attacking our citizens and refusing to patronize some of our Newark merchants because they expressed their views on the light question, and spending a very large sum of money to defeat the proposition before us? Isn't it apparent that they expect to receive benefits by so doing and by monopolizing the sale of electric current in this community?

As tax payers, we are interested in matters affecting tax rates and will co-operate with the tax payers at any time in trying to keep down the tax rate. We, however, maintain that the proposition as to manufacturing our own current will be a saving in taxes by being able to produce current at less cost than purchasing it.

We have not resorted to any unfair means as the Ohio Light & Power Company has because we wanted to state our reasons fairly and deal with fundamental propositions and facts.

We have had presented to us some startling affidavits as to the manner in which the Ohio Light & Power Company has dealt with organized labor and the manner in which they have discriminated against some of our leading merchants, but have refrained from publishing them because we believe in reasoning the proposition from a matter of fact standpoint.

The adoption of the proposed bond issue will protect the consumers and tax payers against this subsidiary of the American Light & Power Company, a gigantic monopoly.

We have submitted our arguments and believe they will have fair and unprejudiced consideration by our voters.

Electric Light Discussion

The Light Question.
Editor of The Advocate:—I have noticed that one of our dear readers has found a few objections to my former views on the light question. He seems to think that I have overlooked several important matters. Let us see.

One question he asks is, "Does Mr. Horn know that more than one half of the taxes of Newark is paid by renters?" I do not exactly "get him" on this question as it seems that he is laboring under the impression that because he is a renter he is a taxpayer. In our experience with renters we have found that the landlord is the least of their thoughts and I am pleased to learn that there is one renter who is so willing to help pay the taxes.

Now he goes on to say, "The city pays more to their meter than The Ohio Light & Power Company." I do not know where he obtained his authority for this statement, but I do know that The Ohio Light & Power Company pay their men according to their ability and can our reader say this of the city?

I also notice that he speaks of "his company." I represent no company and furthermore I have had no promises of a position with the city in case the bond issue carries.

Now back to the heater question, which the writer objected to. I did not criticize the life of the heater, but did criticize the care it had. I am indeed surprised to learn that he does not know what happened to the heater. I think he is the only one as the next morning after the explosion I overheard a conversation between some of the city employees joking about making a boiler out of the heater and said they knew a week or two before that the exhaust from the heater was almost stopped up but it seemed no one cared enough to take the trouble of looking after it. Just another case of efficiency in municipal ownership.

The reader goes on further to ask, "Where else could The Ohio Light & Power Company have taken their plant?" It seems his information on this point is a little defective. Perhaps he doesn't know that the company owns franchises in every city and town where they furnish current and I can see no reason why they could not have placed their plant in one of the other cities where they hold franchises.

I do not mean to be personal in my remarks but I feel that it is my duty to back up my statements.

About everything has been said on both sides concerning the light question. I am going to ask the voters and especially the taxpayers, whether or no business experience or the word of persons who have had very little or no experience or the word of Mr. Mr. Heisey of the Heisey Co., Mr. Dayton of The American Bottle Co., Mr. Wm. Burke of The Burke Golf Co., and dozens of others of our leading business men.

Just think this over and when you go to the polls cast your ballot the same as it was $30,000 of your own money to be paid out in experimenting.

FRANK E. HORN.

Municipal or Private Ownership.
Editor of The Advocate:

The conclusions of the Public Ownership Commission of the National Civic Federation, an organization of unbiased judges in matters of public welfare, is deserving of our first consideration.

1. In all public affairs the vote of the people must be acknowledged the sovereign authority.

2. Municipalities should have the power to enter the field of municipal ownership upon popular vote under reasonable regulations.

3. The success of municipal operation of public utilities must depend upon the existence in the city of a high capacity for municipal government.

4. If franchises or reduced privileges are granted to private persons, it should be so within the bounds of a fixed period, terminable and subject to any purchase that may be necessary, at a fair value.

5. Private companies operating public utilities should be subject to public regulation and examination under a system of uniform records and accounts and of full publicity.

It is rarely the unfortunate occurrence that a city is confronted with an unsuperable difficulty in securing the necessary capital to carry on a public utility. In this case, if strict provision be made for regulation, publicity of accounts and ownership in the future and the same be made part of the contract, private ownership would hardly need to be feared though municipal ownership, wherever possible, be most desirable. In every case where a change is made in city government, emphasis must be placed on the utmost publicity, economy and efficiency. Such a system must be comprehensive. It must include all data of financial transactions and be classified in their proper categories.

Five other points worthy of our consideration are:

6. There is a strong sentiment among many of our best citizens that municipal ownership is the right of the people. The integrity of corporations is not the question. However, honest and efficient these corporations may be, the first right would rest with the people.

7. Others more critical of corporations, favor municipal ownership as a means of eliminating corporate influences from political life.

8. On the other hand, it is argued that if the city can not regulate the corporation she is also unfit for municipal ownership. But to this the reply could be made that when the responsibility is brought closer home to the people, they always show a keener interest in public affairs.

9. The educative value of municipal ownership in bringing the people into close touch with the affairs for which they are responsible.

10. The question of municipal or private ownership of a public utility is also a question of how best to serve the welfare of the neediest classes of a city. The extension of electric light and water service makes it possible for the population to expand and to live under more wholesome conditions than would be possible if they lived closer to the crowded centers. The city itself is naturally more in sympathy with its poor than a private corporation would be.

GROVER L. DIEHL.

From Director Christian.

Editor of The Advocate:
To the voters of Newark:—Tomorrow you are asked to decide whether or not you favor the improvement of your city light plant by the issue of $30,000 of ten year bonds payable $3,000.00 each year for ten years. There is no other issue before you. Some doubt the economic plan as being the most feasible, but have they studied it from an unbiased standpoint? After careful study of the situation in all its phases, I suggested the plan of consolidating the two utilities owned by the city: you have them both to operate, and why not, do it to the best advantage: that is what makes municipal ownership of these utilities a success, to injure one, injures the other. All the argument about the possibilities of poor management cannot enter into the question, unless you would decide to abandon the light plant altogether. The plant will still be handled by city employees.

The question of bonded debt was gone into thoroughly, and I desire to state that as a taxpayer I am no more in favor burdening the people with debt than any other taxpayer. I believe in the lowest possible rate, for I help to pay it. I hope that the voters will consider my motives as thoroughly honest and to their best interests. It is hard to understand how any one can possibly think that paying a bond is a greater burden than paying the same money on a contract. How are you going to get the money to pay the Ohio Light & Power company unless you raise the money by taxation?

The only interest that I have in this matter is your interest and mine as a citizen and taxpayer. I want Newark to have the best and at the least cost, and could any one show me that it is cheaper to BUY CURRENT RATHER THAN MAKE IT, I would heartily approve the purchase of it. As to the cost of the installation being not sufficient as some have inferred, and my ability to carry it to a successful completion, I desire to refer the voters to the city building, that was reconstructed under my supervision. It might well be stated that three contractors estimated this work to cost $7,800.00 and the cellar under the front rooms as $600.00 additional. I did this work for $6,800.00 and as the extras that the contractor received on this work was $67.00.

Statements have been made, that in a few years will look ridiculous, remember that the Ohio Light & Power company is not bound by any of them, and should it occur that these statements were wrong, they cannot be held accountable for them. Further, that should the bond issue be defeated, that no contract can be entered into with the Ohio Light & Power company without an advertisement by this department for the lowest bid. Then again the question will arise, that the people having a vote determined to establish their own lighting plant, can it be annulled without a vote of the people first.

I have endeavored to show you that it is to your interest to improve your light and water system in the most economical way, and should you determine otherwise, I feel that I have done by part in the interest of the public, and any financial difficulties later will be no fault of mine.

W. C. CHRISTIAN.

No Friends of Subway.
Editor of The Advocate:—Some irresponsible parties are circulating through the South End, a story to the effect that if the bond issue, to be voted on tomorrow, is defeated, that they will demolish the subway bonds.

This shows, in the first place what good friends of the subway these gentlemen are, and in the second place it shows the crude working of a very imperfect mind.

The subway bonds have been duly authorized by vote of the people and by action of the council. They were sold once and the bond buyers refused to accept them because the advertisement for the sale of the bonds wasn't published the number of times required by the statute.

Before bonds are finally accepted by any purchaser all of the proceedings are carefully examined by attorneys who make a specialty of that sort of work. Their report was to the effect that the bonds were legal in every respect excepting as to the advertisement. That the council is curing at this time.

The reader will therefore see how utterly absurd this talk about an injunction against the subway bonds is.

It would be interesting, however, to find out why the subway bonds were not properly advertised, and an investigation of that matter will probably result in finding that a certain city official, who, at all times was opposed to the subway, was responsible.

SOUTH END.

Save The Subway.

Editor of The Advocate:—The communication in Saturday's paper signed by a South Side Home owner furnished facts that should interest home owners in all parts of the city. The people have voted for the Subway after a long and exhaustive discussion and another effort to sell the bonds is advertised for the 14th of April. But it will be a great menace to the complete success of the Subway if another bond issue is forced upon the people at this time.

Tomorrow's Bond Election

Editor of The Advocate:

In view of the coming bond election it may be well to review the present bonded debt of the city.

General Bonds $672,567.16

When the above two issues are sold the city's bonded debt will be as follows: (Less bonds that may be liquidated between March 9th and the date of the sale of the two issues mentioned.)

Floating Debt..... 57,500

Total $281,100

Total $1,347,922.13

A matter to be considered at this time is this: The city under the five per cent law cannot issue more than $1,508,508.00 of bonds.

There are a number of things we need that we cannot buy. Among them is a new sewer system and a sewer disposal plant. All the sewers of the city now empty into the creek within the city's limits, a menace to the health of the community.

The sewers about town in a heavy rain back up in cellars about the center of town.

Had we not better reserve some of our borrowing capacity to do things necessary that must come soon?

Again why should not the city buy what it needs in the cheapest market?

Why buy feed for a "hobby?" He will live just as well without.

How It Works

Editor of The Advocate:

Read the following editorial from Collier's, the National Weekly, for November 14, 1914:

"Perhaps the most obvious thing for the average city to own is the electric light and power station, since the city already owns, paves, and cleans the streets. Between 1902 and 1912 the number of such plants owned by our municipalities increased from 815 to 1,562, while the number commercially owned increased from 2,805 to 3,659. How did they work? The Bureau of the Census has issued a bulletin which gives the answer. The figures show that in 1912 the city-owned stations hired 16 per cent of the total number of employees in order to turn out 4.7 per cent of the total product.

"Electricity is sold by the kilowatt hour, and the cities increased their average charge from 3.5 cents in 1902 to 4.3 cents in 1912, while the commercial plants reduced their average charge from 3.4 to 2.5 cents. It is clear that this reflects among other things, the growth of municipal ownership in the smaller towns, where it really does cost more to turn out 'the juice'; but the trouble is that the whole drift of the statistical evidence is in the same direction. The city-owned plants tend to fall back on higher rates and the kindly nurture of taxes, and do not deliver the goods. There is another scary side to the story, viz., the way in which these municipal enterprises resist state regulation and especially the introduction of uniform accounting methods which would show all the facts. Municipal ownership spells opportunity for the politician and his officeholders, but it does not spell service."

way is to issue no more bonds for any other purpose whatever until the subway is completed in all its details and all incidental demands that may arise.

Any other bond issue will endanger the subway greatly at this time.

Another good point in the communication of South Side Home Owner is that if the Water Works plant needs new boilers and other machinery they should be paid for out of the receipts of the plant for water rents.

Our $600,000 water works plant ought to be self-supporting, and if it is not, then municipal ownership is a sad failure, and furnishes a mighty good argument for purchasing electric current from the Ohio Light and Power Company, when the price to be paid is less than the city can produce it for.

FAIR PLAY.

Favors Buying Current.

Editor of The Advocate:—In looking over various articles written by different parties concerning municipal lighting in the city of Newark it is surprising to note how many people can write on a subject they know so little about. I have read several articles that are very misleading and to the uninformed person it sounds very good. As for me I can say that I take a different view of the matter and as I have been in the electric light business for twenty-three years, twenty-one years of which were spent in Newark, I think I know pretty well what I am talking about.

I have held every position from fireman to superintendent and have had to figure costs by the kilowatt and I positively know what it costs to produce electricity. I know that the city of Newark cannot produce current for eight tenths of a cent per kilowatt because of the overhead expense and especially is this so of a small plant only producing 250 kilowatt capacity and operated 10 to 14 hours out of 24 hours.

Also wish to state that in the past the city could not produce current for less than two eight tenths of a cent per kilowatt.

Mr. Taxpayer I hope you will study this over thoroughly before you vote to issue any more bonds to build a light plant as I think many people will remember the great misleading statements about the wonderful up-to-date water plant that was to be built for $300,000 and which when finished cost about $600,000 and how about the subway. Does anyone know what this will cost the city. We only have the engineers estimate which experience proves doesn't count for much.

I myself being a taxpayer think that the proposition submitted by the Ohio Light and Power Company is the best and lowest I have yet heard of and I think the taxpayers of Newark should grasp this opportunity instead of bonding the city for something the cost of which is yet to be determined.

WALTER S. HORN,

Logan, Ohio.

M. R. Scott's Views.

Editor of The Advocate:—Monopoly or no monopoly. That is the issue. From the little or nothing that I know about the generating and distributing electricity, I might concede that the Ohio Light and Power Company would light our street lamps during the coming ten years for less money than the city itself can do it. Nevertheless, I can not think it would be well for us to place ourselves in the grip of this corporation for all future years, even if we could save a few thousand dollars by it.

Have the men who are going to vote against the proposed bond issue asked themselves what the city may have to pay for electricity ten years hence, and what private consumers may have to pay—under the threat of having the current shut off by the Ohio Light and Power Company, when the ten years franchise now enjoyed by this Company expires. It seems to me that our experience with the Gas Company ought to open everybody's eyes on this point.

Of course, this Electric Company is entitled to fair and respectful treatment. That is, their property is entitled to the same police protection and fire protection that all other property receives from the city, and their officials and employees are entitled to all the privileges and amenities and courtesies of civilized society with none to molest them or make them afraid. But I do not understand that the city owes them any money and much less do we owe them a concession of the monopoly they are seeking so eagerly to obtain.

Wherefore in the interests of both the taxpayers and the non-taxpayers of the city, I shall vote for the municipal light plant, and I would certainly.

tainly vote this way, even if the Ohio Light and Power Company or the Ohio Electric Railway Company were offering to light our streets for ten years without money and without price!

M. R. SCOTT.

Favors Bond Issue.

Editor of The Advocate:—In all the arguments concerning the electric light proposition, one fact still predominates. The cost of production, distribution, repairs and deterioration since the installation of the old city plant has made the price per light per year in Newark less than in any city buying current from a private corporation or the Ohio Light and Power Company would long since have shown to the contrary.

Even though arguments have been put forward that the rate of the Ohio Light and Power Company is cheaper than the city could produce it for, the vital point remains that corporate rates are not stationary. The public servants who have shared the same argument that persists in calling attention to the inefficiency of public utilities also have charge of public utilities also applies to many city councils. Councils may often be cajoled or otherwise persuaded to grant flexible contracts in the interests of public utility corporations. Such legislation is sometimes enacted through the powerful aid of personal friends of a corporation attorney, friends who believe in the principal of "what is the use of having a friend unless you can make use of him." The sentiment is beautiful but often costly in civic affairs.

The danger of such legislation can be avoided by the city owning its own plant. If we have for twenty-two years past been able to make an economical showing in our municipal plant, economical in comparison to cities that have purchased current from private corporations, and we unquestionably have, let us not be lured by spurious arguments in present emergency and discard what has been a profit to Newark. Bear in mind Mr. Voter that the proposition before us is a very simple proposition of building an addition only to our water works plant for producing electric current and not a new or separate plant. There will be no increase in cost of labor or otherwise in the producing of current. Vote for the bond issue and the city's pocket.

PHIL GERLACK.

Answer to South Sider.

Editor of The Advocate:—Mr. South Sider, you have failed to take into consideration the fact that a very small per cent of the voters of this city live south of the railroad, and it was necessary for a large per cent of the voters in the main portion of the city to support your Subway project or else it would have failed.

The Subway proposition is an improvement and protection principally for the benefit of those south of the railroad. Don't you think you are selfish in making the statement you did when we have before us a proposition that is so important for the protection and welfare of the citizens of the entire city? The proposition, if properly supported, will keep us out of the grasp of a corporation that is spending an immense sum of money and casting reflections on some of our citizens that are absolutely above reproach in order to gain their point of absolute monopoly.

Ask yourself the question, Mr. South Sider, what all this agitation and statements made relative to the proposed project that we know are absolutely untrue, and the discrimination against our leading business men by the Ohio Light & Power Company mean? If you are consistent in the matter, you will support the bond issue and return the compliment of the support given you.

Relative to the propositions before us, the statements made convey the impression that it is a project of building a new plant, it is the simple proposition of building an addition to our water plant that will be operated by the force needed to operate the water works plant without it. It is simply adding a generating plant to the water works station without additional cost of operation and will not in any way complicate our city affairs or require any exceptional ability over what is required to operate our water plant which cost $569,000, against which there is no complaint as to management.

As to the proposed bond issue affecting your Subway project, I desire to call your attention to the fact that it can in no way interfere with it, and further, will not affect our tax rate to any appreciable extent, because of the fact that there will be $60,000 of city bonds retired this year and large amounts each year hereafter, so that the amount of bonds retired this year will be more than twice the amount needed to build our electric generating plant as an addition to our water works.

Further, the proposition you propose as to pending legislation affecting the Warner law and limiting the bond issue in such a way as to interfere with your Subway proposition. I desire to call your attention to the fact that we vote on the bond issue Tuesday and as the proposed law has not passed and owing to the statutory requirements, it could not become a law for sixty days after passage, so that you can readily see that the question you raise from that standpoint could in no way interfere with the proposition that is before us of so much importance to our citizens.

Co-operation is the proper spirit and since we co-operate with you in a proposition that cost $240,000, eight times the cost of the proposition we consider of so vital importance to us, we will expect to receive your support and co-operation to the extent that you will vote for the bond issue.

The writer was a member of the Trades and Labor Assembly committee that worked for the bond issue for the Subway and if it had not been for the support that committee gave to the bond issue for the Subway, it would have been an utter impossibility for you to have secured the same, and this has been acknowledged by the leading men of our city.

We now come before you with the proposition of protecting the consumers and organized laboring men against the monopoly, an institution that is discriminating against organized labor.

Vote Tomorrow.

There has been a full and free discussion of the proposed electric light bond issue and Advocate readers are familiar with the arguments made for and against the proposition.

In its news and advertising columns this newspaper has carried every argument bearing upon the question. The free space has been equally divided and every communication has had courteous attention and consideration. While the Advocate believes that the proposed bond issue should be defeated and in recent issues has given its reasons for this position, we are glad to accord to the friends of municipal ownership the right to their opinion and have been glad to give space for the presentation of their arguments at length.

Captain A. H. Heisey, head of one of Newark's largest industries, gave his reasons in last Friday's Advocate why he will oppose this bond issue tomorrow. Superintendent Dayton of the American Bottle Company in an interview with the Advocate last week stated that his company had found it could buy current at the regular scheduled rate cheaper than it could produce it and that the bottle Company is now expending $25,000 for the privilege of buying current from the local lighting company.

The people are familiar with the proposition, they know the arguments advanced and the time is now here for the decision. Let every Newark man, who can vote tomorrow.

Let's Clean Up!

There are many people who are thoughtful for the appearance of their own home places, yet who are absolutely careless as to the general appearance of their town.

Comparatively few persons, who have any sense of cleanliness at all, would litter up their own home grounds by throwing refuse out of the windows. Yet the same people will scatter paper bags and other waste matter about the streets. Then they complain against the officers if the place is not kept in a neat condition.

Most people also feel some pride about keeping up home places. They will take pains not to run over grass lawns, and will scrupulously follow paths. But when they go down town they will cut corners in the court house park, gradually wearing down plots of grass, and give the town an unfinished and run down air. No matter how much money a town spends to keep its public ways in good shape, it will never have a neat and tidy appearance unless its citizens co-operate.

People should feel a positive sense of shame in throwing away anything that would make their streets look unattractive.

In some places boys and girls are trained to pick up waste paper that is flying about the streets. With a lot of youngsters active in that way, not merely to remove evidences of other people's disorder, but not to make any of their own, it is astonishing how a town's appearance can be transformed.

what excuse is there for saying that they are afraid to embark their capital? What premonitory symptoms are there of the destruction of the commerce of the country because the rich men who used to pay the campaign expenses of the Republican party are no longer influential in Washington?

The Parson Candidate.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
Rev. Charles F. Taylor, pastor of the wealthiest Congregational church of Greenwich, Ct., desires to be mayor. He has announced his candidacy and is about to begin an active campaign.

Oddly enough Candidate Taylor is not running on a "clean-up" or a "reform" platform. His only promise is that he will give his city a "business administration." He has no ax to grind, and no special favor to advocate. He does not advertise himself as wicked and in need of godly government. He merely believes him capable of being an efficient mayor, and he is going to try to persuade his fellow citizens to agree with him.

Mr. Taylor is six foot two, a man of vigor and forcefulness. He has plenty of initiative. He has never engaged in any sensational "crusades" on any matter of morality or immorality, but he is credited with being the originator and leader of a recent movement to rid Greenwich of malaria, a growth indigenous to the Greenwich climate. When Mr. Taylor got through with this malaria business malaria will not soon return. Such a man, one is fain to believe, ought to make a good mayor. At any rate he is to be commended for his public spirit and his desire to be of service to his community in material as well as spiritual things.

Using Vacant Lots.

In many cities efforts will be made this spring to utilize for garden purposes at least a part of the vacant lots which grow nothing but weeds and rubbish, as a rule, and a little sickly grass, says the Cleveland Leader. It is a wise and timely movement which might well be encouraged and guided as efficiently as possible.

There is much land lying absolutely unused in this city on which potatoes or cabbages, if nothing more might well be raised. It would be exactly as useful to its owners if producing food for the poor as it is now, and it might be cultivated at small expense by men and boys who have no more profitable employment for at least a part of their time.

It is a measure of relief which might well be taken up by the city authorities, for there will be need of some method of guaranteeing to the men who undertake the cultivation of vacant lots the full enjoyment of the proceeds of their labor and the exclusive use of the ground they make ready for planting.

TAKE A LOOK IF YOU HAVE TIME

Seems Logical.
Now, can a chimney swallow, Ma?" asked little George Grotte.
"On, yes, my son," said she, "ha, ha, 'Do you not see its throat?'"
"And can a house fly, Ma," he cried.
"There are such curious things," "I don't see why," his Ma replied.
"If it is built with wings."

There are times when the accomplished daughter of the family can not be induced to sing, but anybody can start a graphophone.

The hottest political fights originate in differences of opinion as to the identity of those who shall serve on the school board.

Along about the time she is 25 a girl gets over the fear that somebody will marry her for her money.

A little of the cheering in politics is done by the voters. The balance of it is done by the newspapers.

A man's favorite way of saying nothing is to write a long letter to a friend.

A man earns his right to heaven by leading a righteous life. A woman earns hers living with her husband.

Spirit of the Press

False Logic.
A Boston traveling man returned from New Zealand says that American goods are not finding a market there because the business men of that British possession believe that the United States should have gone to war over the invasion of Belgium, as England did. Here is exhibited one of the many penalties of our neutrality as well as false logic.—Springfield Republic.

Sense of Honor.
A Terre Haute repeater complains that, although he voted twenty-one times, he was paid for only twenty votes. Terre Haute bribe evidently has a sense of honor. They respect a man's suffrage by permitting him one untrammeled ballot.—Cincinnati Times Star.

Wireless Around the World.
An event of importance is the completion of the wireless station in the Panama zone. Within a short time the United States will be in direct communication with the most distant parts of the world; in fact, the wireless stations to be established at San Francisco, Honolulu, Manila and Guam insure the sending of news around the world. Alaska also is included in the list of wireless stations, and the big plant at Arlington is to be improved. An idea of the capacity of these stations may be formed from the statement that the height of each of these masts at Panama is 600 feet. Congress, fortunately, appropriated money for the completion of the great chain of wireless plants.

The value to the country of a system of communication which "beats the world and sweeps to their uttermost limits the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans" cannot be estimated. With extensive possessions in the Pacific it is most important for the United States to be kept in close touch with the Far East. And it is not enough to build these wireless stations. Adequate provisions for their protection should be made. The fact that we are now at peace with the world is no guarantee that we never will have trouble with some foreign power.—Providence Journal.

Some Persuader.

General Hugh L. Scott, who went unnamed and brought a Plute outlaw into camp by the gentle art of persuasion, is a man who could come home from the lodge at 1 o'clock in the morning and persuade the missus that he had been to the lodge.—Louisville Courier Journal.

Reason Enough.

Costume-makers note a constantly increasing demand from all parts of the country for party and dance dresses of solid black for misses and young women. Not a bit of color is seen on any of them, even the trimmings being of jet or queer freak of fashion, but there is reason enough why the world should dress in mourning.—Boston Globe.

DELIVER US!

From all the woe and sorrow that bloody warfare brings, when monarchs start to borrow some grief from other kings, from dreadful scenes of laughter and joy men by the cord, from blood that flows like water, deliver us, O Lord!

From fear and melancholy that every death has, from all the pompous tolls in which an army lives, from all the strife stupendous, that brings no reward, but only loss tremendous, deliver us, O Lord!

From scenes of horror and death and grief, from all the desolation the gods of war accord to every fighting nation, deliver us, O Lord!

Granville

(Special to The Advocate) Granville, March 29.—The Granville Women's Music club has issued invitations to the twenty-two members of the Denison Glee club and a corresponding number of Shepardsen college girls to a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Darrow, Wednesday evening, March 31, at the close of the Glee club concert. The husbands of the Music club members also will be guests of the club on that occasion. Several dinner parties will precede the concert, and the audience will appear in gala attire.

Prof. V. H. Hoppe gave a successful dramatic recital in Gambier Friday night before a large and appreciative audience. "Booth Tarkington's" popular drama, "The Man From Home" has no more effective exponent on the platform today than is Mr. Hoppe with his magnetic presence, and wonderful voice. His characterizations are the result of careful study and each personality in the play stands out as a separate and distinct entity.

Mr. Hoppe, who is the head of the department of Public Speaking in Denison University, is achieving great success in his classes as well as upon the platform, being a man of broad culture and high ideals. While in Gambier he was the guest of Mr. Ernest Carhart, a former Denison student, now in the Divinity school in Kenyon college.

The Cicero-Irving contest, an annual event of great interest to the community, will be held tomorrow (Tuesday) evening in Recital Hall. Each literary society has a team of four men who represent their respective societies in the following numbers: debate, oration, essay, and declamation. The teams are composed of the following men: Cicero: Phillips, debate; Collett, oration; Classman, essay; H. Spencer, declamation. Irving: Hammond, debate; Davis, oration; Barrett, essay; McGruer, declamation. These men were assigned their parts only after a thorough tryout. This morning, colors were handed out to each society, and all who are interested in the contest are wearing either the gold or the purple badges. John Martin has been appointed cheer leader for Cicero, and Dave Reese will lead Irving in the preliminary exercises in Recital Hall.

An assembly is called this evening in Sherwin Hall at 6:30 sharp of all the men in the University who wish to take part in the nineteenth annual presentation of the Denison Dandy Darkies. The meeting will be brief, being called merely to determine the approximate size of the chorus.

Several Granville chorists attended the moving picture show at the Harmon in Columbus Saturday afternoon and proved themselves delighted with the wonderful scenes taken by Dr. George A. Dorsey and his two assistants in China and Japan. The scenes in Japan were especially beautiful, many of them of exquisite coloring. Among the Columbus visitors Saturday were Mrs. R. S. Colwell, Mrs. Belle Grove Wright, Mrs. Fred McCullum, Mrs. Burton Case, Mrs. Howard Darrow, Miss Josephine Darrow, Miss McCafferty, Miss Lella C. Brown.

Mrs. Theodore Johnson, one of Granville's sweet singers, sang the soprano solo in the Easter cantata, "Death and Life" given in the Baptist church last evening under the direction of Dean Eschman, and Mr. Paul Cortis sang the bass solo. Both soloists and chorus achieved an artistic triumph in the performance and Mr. Eschman is receiving warm commendations not only for the wonderful rendition of the organ prelude by Liszt, "Les Preludes" which preceded the church service.

This is an arrangement for the organ by Mr. Eschman himself, and in its performance last evening he held his audience spellbound.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Kent were weekend visitors in Granville. Mr. Kent was one of the alumni initiates into Phi Delta Theta fraternity, and a guest at the banquet Saturday night. Mrs. Kent was Miss Bennett of Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Cannack of Huntington, W. Va., are visiting at the home of their father, Mr. Hiram LaFerre in South Main street.

Miss Elizabeth Porter has gone to her home in Nevada, Ind., for a ten days' vacation.

Miss Marjorie Williams, a former Shepardsen College girl, is general secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Springfield, O.

Cards are out for a reception by Kappa Phi sorority at the chapter house Tuesday afternoon, March 30. Mrs. Franklin and Miss Franklin, who have occupied one of the Ransley apartments during the winter, expect to leave Granville about April first, for a sojourn in the mountains of West Virginia.

Mrs. J. E. Cochran is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl King in West Virginia. Incidentally the tiny granddaughter also will receive her due share of attention.

On the first of April, Rev. E. D. Barnes, pastor of the Presbyterian church with his family, will take possession of the house at the corner of College and Pearl streets, recently vacated by Mr. E. L. Jones. In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, with their little son, are located with Mrs. J. M. Swartz, corner of Elm and Prospect streets.

Prof. W. H. Johnson, who was summoned by telegram to Marietta last week on account of his father's serious illness, reports a decided improvement in the condition of the invalid and that he himself will be able to resume his classes today.

Carl Norpell Answers The Criticism of His Remarks On Electric Light Question

Editor of The Advocate:—In reply to the criticisms of my remarks at the M. E. church on the Light question by several of your correspondents, I desire to say:

We are not dealing with the conditions in Germany, Scotland, Seattle, etc., but with the conditions here in Newark, Ohio.

The conditions there and here may be and are not as wide apart as the east is from the west. The citizens of Newark have an opportunity of buying the current for lighting our streets for less than one-half of what it will cost us to produce it, without increasing our municipal debt one penny.

That being so, upon what principle of reason, sound business or common sense would this city be justified in issuing and selling from $30,000 to $50,000 of municipal bonds, building and operating a light plant to produce current at a cost of more than double what it would take to purchase the current?

What would anyone think of an individual, business man, manufacturing plant or a corporation that needed electric current, that would incur an indebtedness of $30,000 to build and equip a plant to make that current when they could buy the current for less than one-half of what it would cost to produce it?

The American Bottle Company thought, like many of the advocates of municipal ownership in this campaign, that by erecting and operating its own plant in connection with the American Bottle Plant, under the same roof and with the same overhead expense, they could produce light and power for its own plant, cheaper than it could buy it.

After years of experience, they find that, that is impossible and are doing just exactly what their able and learned counsel, J. A. Flory, is advising the citizens of Newark to do.

They are dismantling their $150,000 light plant and buying their current from the Ohio Light and Power Company and in addition thereto are spending $25,000 to make the necessary connections to take current from that Company.

Is Mr. Flory ready to say that this great corporation, with years of actual experience in operating a light plant (under practically the same conditions as are proposed to operate the city plant at the Water Works buildings) with unlimited capital, with the very best trained experts to manage and operate their plants, that money can purchase, backed by a board of directors composed of the most successful business men that the country has ever produced, cannot make current as cheaply as a municipal plant managed most of the time by mere politicians, without any experience or training for that particular work?

Is Mr. Flory ready to say that the Board of directors of the Bottle plant do not understand their business?

They have tested their plan thoroughly for years. It has cost them several hundred thousand dollars to do it and they have proven that it is a miserable failure and are now buying their current. Let us profit by their experience.

City Indebtedness.

Mr. Flory says that by page 24 of the City Auditor's report it is shown that the bonded indebtedness of the city is only $766,000.

Mr. Flory certainly knows that, that does not include the $240,000 of Subway bonds that have been authorized, voted for and soon will be sold.

Nor does it include the bonds that have been issued and sold since the report was prepared and printed, amounting to $58,000.

Limit to Bonded Indebtedness.

Mr. Flory says, as a lawyer I ought to know, under the law the city has a right to issue and sell bonds to an amount equal to 8 per cent of the total value of the city tax duplicate, or to the amount of $240,000.

In reply to this assertion, I desire to quote the section of the law controlling this matter, being section 3352 of the General Code which reads as follows:

"That from and after the passage of this act and until including the 30th of September, 1911, the limitations of 4 and 8 per cent prescribed by this act shall be applied to and based upon the total value of all property listed and assessed for taxation in such municipal corporation as determined by the duplicate for the year 1910. On and after the first day of October, 1911, the said 4 per cent limitation shall be reduced to 2 1/2 per cent and the said 8 per cent limitation shall be reduced to 5 per cent and such reduced limitations shall be applied to and based upon the value of all the property listed and assessed for taxation in such municipal corporation, as determined by the duplicate then and thereafter in force."

The above section shows conclusively that the limitation is 5 per cent and not 8 per cent as Mr. Flory asserts.

Everybody at all familiar with the finances of this city, knows that with a total tax duplicate of $20,000 and with a tax rate of thirteen mills, that it does not produce sufficient revenue to retire bonds, pay interest thereon, and to properly conduct and pay the running expenses of the city and largely because of the fact that nearly one-half of the amount of taxes raised must be applied to the retirement of these bonds and that the more bonds you issue, the less money you are going to have to pay the running expenses of this city government and the inevitable result is a higher tax rate.

We all know that we will need every cent that we can possibly raise by taxation, and more too, to retire these bonds and pay the running expenses of the city government that are strictly necessary and legitimate without incurring debts that are wholly unnecessary, unwise and unprofitable.

Mr. Flory complains because I mentioned the school debt in connection with the city debt, and wants to know what the school board debt has to do with the city debt.

In reply to this, I desire to say, that the limits of the Newark school district and the limits of the city corporation are practically the same, with the exception of a few houses at the north end and a few houses at the west end that are in the school district but are not in the city limits and that 99 per cent of the school debt must be met and paid by the tax payers of the city of Newark.

I might say in addition to the bonded indebtedness of the city and the school debt the tax payers of the city of Newark have to pay their proportion, one-third of $200,000 and every man who owns a home or any property within the city limits, has got to pay his proportion, not only of the city bonded debt, but of the school debt and the county debt besides, and so rapidly have all of these increased within the last few years that it is certainly time for every tax payer to carefully consider before he votes for any further increase.

Mr. Flory complains about the rate the citizens of Newark are paying for light and power in this city.

In reply to this I desire to say, that the City Council has the absolute power under Section 3352 of the General Code, of fixing the maximum and minimum rate to be charged the citizens for light and power and by the proper and intelligent exercise of this power it is absolutely impossible for any company to charge the citizens an exorbitant rate and in addition there to the State Board of Public Utilities would not permit any material discrimination as between the different cities of the State so that there is nothing in that argument.

After investigating the rates paid in thirty cities of Ohio we find that the rate charged to the citizens of Newark is considerably below the average, which is 10 and 9.30 for the 30 cities.

That in addition to the rates that the citizens of Newark are getting, besides that, $4200 of service for city buildings, etc., free of charge and are getting ten per cent discount for cash and also free carbon bulbs and free connections and meters and yet, Mr. Flory is not satisfied.

Not one yet, in a single article that I have observed, has pointed to a single act of any kind or description by the present company in its transactions with the city that can be complained of. They are honorable, square and generous in their dealings, both with the city and its citizens.

Most of these writers seem to be afraid that the Ohio Light and Power company will make a profit on the current furnished the city.

Every company or corporation must make a profit or fail, but the amount of profit that they will be able to make upon the price proposed must certainly be insignificant.

It appears from the reports from the manager of the Columbus Municipal Plant, which is one of the finest in the United States, that it cost them over two cents per kilowatt for the past four years to deliver the current to the switchboard. When the Ohio Light and Power company offer to deliver that current to the switchboard at one-half of that price, or they agree to furnish current at a flat rate for less than what it would cost the city for fuel alone, to say nothing of interest on bonds, depreciation, labor, insurance, incidentals and liability for accidents and damages to the property.

That it cannot be claimed that they could make any considerable profit upon such a proposition.

I understand that company not only make this proposition to furnish the current for less than one-half of what it will cost the city to produce it, but they will give a bond, signed by one of the best surety companies in the country, in any reasonable amount, asked, that they will faithfully comply with all the terms of their contract with the city.

Every man who owns a home or property of any kind, before voting for the issue of any more municipal bonds, should remember that he must pay his part and proportion, not only of the city debt but of the school debt and the county debt, as well as his proportion of the interest on all of this debt.

New York Stock Exchange.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Mar. 20.—A future rise of over seven points in Bethlehem Steel was the dominant feature of today's early operations. The stock rose to a new high record and 15 points above its price of last Friday. Further realization of the company's increasing business and short covering contributed to today's movement. Another specialty, General Motors, added seven points to last Saturday's eight point advance. All the more seasoned issues were higher. Canadian Pacific led the advance in this class with a gain of 1 1/2. Prices in the general list showed before the end of the half hour.

Bethlehem Steel yielded little of its recent advance. Its stock, which had added to its early gains and other speculative specialties gained two to three points, most of the railway and other representative shares were reactionary. Leading and New Haven fell over a point from their best, while Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Atlantic and Smelling were fractionally lower. Prices stiffened again at midday. Bonds were steady.

Chicago Grain.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Mar. 20.—Wheat scored a substantial advance today largely as a result of the late winter weather. Decreasing stocks in Liverpool counted against the bears and so too, did reports of a falling off in quality of shipments from Argentina. There were also crop damage advices from northern Indiana, where there has been alternate thawing and freezing of late. The opening, which varied from 1/2 cent off to one cent up, was followed by a rise all around with wheat. There were no signs of any increase of the movement from rural sources. After opening a shade lower 1/2 cent, 1/2 cent higher, the market made a general gain to about one cent above Saturday's level.

Pit traders were the only sellers of oats. Firmness of other grain had a decided bullish effect on other dealers and gave the market a decided lift. Higher prices hogs tended to steady provisions. Demand, however, was inactive.

EXILED DUKE IS REFUSED BY ALL OF ALLIED ARMIES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, March 29.—The French government has refused the request of the Duke of Orleans that he be granted permission to enlist in the foreign legion under an assumed name, says the France. Early in the war he sought to have amended the law passed in 1886 forbidding him to enter France or serve in the army. He agreed to resume his exile if permitted to fight, but his efforts were fruitless.

After the French refused to accept his services as a soldier, he sought to enlist in the British, Belgian and Russian armies but the military authorities of those countries, out of courtesy to the French government, refused to accept him.

He then appealed to Premier Viviani for the right to enter the foreign legion, but the premier held that such a step was impracticable for he would be sure to be recognized and the government compelled to expel him from France under the law directed against members of former French reigning families. He again tried to enter the Russian army but was refused.

Every Day Etiquette

"When one receives the announcement of a wedding of persons who are not intimate friends, does one have to send a gift?" asked Cora.

"It is not necessary for you to send a gift to the bride upon the receipt of an announcement. You should send your card to the bride or bridegroom or both," answered her mother.

CLEAN UP AND KILL THE MOSQUITOES.

"Cleanup time is here, and so is mosquito time. Gird on your swatting armor and go forth. One moment, however, before you go—the female is more deadly than the male."

"Among mosquitoes the members of the 'fair' sex are fierce bloodsuckers that inject an irritating poison into our skins, and they may accompany the dose of toxin with a few fever germs. The males lead a comparatively tame existence, subsisting on the juices of plants and fruits." So says a member of the University of Wisconsin biology department.

"The speckled-winged anopheles, the malarial mosquito," he continues, "hibernates during the winter in our attics, cellars and closets. The presence of many lakes, swamps and ponds often makes mosquitoes an intolerable pest."

"The female mosquito gorges herself with blood in order that the eggs may have abundant nourishment. She deposits her little egg raft on the surface of quiet water during the night, and it floats there until the larvae hatch. The larvae are the 'wigglers' or 'wigglers' which are seen in ponds and rainwater barrels the world over. Though mosquito larvae always develop in water, they must breathe air and frequently come to the surface. After a few days the larva sheds its skin and becomes a big-headed pupa, which rests at the surface until it splits up the back to allow the adult mosquito to emerge."

"The best way to get rid of mosquitoes is to destroy their breeding places. This not only means draining swamps and filling in ponds, but gathering up tomato cans, putting netting over horse troughs and rainwater barrels and watching the eave troughs. If it is impossible to get rid of standing water near your premises, oil placed on ponds will kill the larvae. Kerosene or any light fuel oil will serve for this purpose. About one ounce of oil will cover fifteen square feet."

Morris & Company Make Radical Additions to Their "Supreme" Line

An important step in the marketing of food products is seen in a recent announcement of Morris & Company.

Having established a reputation for high grade goods in their Supreme Hams and Bacon, this firm, through the methods of their distribution and sales force, is endeavoring to enlarge their line with the addition of products that have no direct relation to packing house products, such as Eggs, Poultry, Butter, Sardines, Sauer Kraut, Evaporated Milk, etc.

A forecast of the success of a move like this is to be found in the attitude which the dealer assumes toward it. If it affords him and his customers an advantage to be sought for, the venture will receive his heartiest support and co-operation.

That Morris & Company took this factor into consideration in planning the enlargement of their line of food products is evidenced in the manner in which it affects both the dealer and the consumer.

In the first place the dealer is protected in the point of quality. He can supply his customers with a line of goods that bears the brand of unquestionable quality. In the second place he can make his purchases for these goods in a more economical manner. Buying goods of this character from a half dozen sources means heavy freight bills. Buying them from one source means a reduction in the number of shipments and consequently smaller freight bills.

It is evident that all this works to the advantage of the consumer. It means much to the housewife to know that she can buy so many food products of daily use with the same assurance that she has bought her ham and bacon. Likewise it is important to the dealer to be able to supply these goods to his customers—and to be able to buy them with economy that makes their handling all the more satisfactory.

Although Morris & Company's move may be regarded as a radical step to be taken by a packing house, it is nothing more than the logical result of trade conditions which the name Supreme has created. It is simply a matter of taking advantage of a demand and the suitable facilities of supplying that demand.

WET WASH PLANT A BOON TO TIRED HOUSEKEEPERS

Wm. Weisgarber is making some improvements to his wet wash laundry in Franklin street. While this institution has been in Newark about two years there are many who do not know what a wet wash laundry is or what it is for. It is a place where family washings are done at a nominal cost that surprises everyone. The entire family washing is placed in a basket and the laundry does the rest. Calls for it, delivers it and it is all ready for the ironing board, that is after being dried out just a short time for the laundry has a machine that makes 1200 revolutions a minute that forces the water from the clothes. As operated by Mr. Weisgarber this plant can turn out two hundred washings a day, and it is a novelty to those who have never seen it in operation and also a boon to the housewife, who can get a big washing done on short notice at almost the cost of a few bars of soap.

RIGID CENSORSHIP OF WAR NEWS MADE BY ROYAL DECREE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Rome, March 28, via Paris, March 29.—A rigid censorship upon the publication of military news from March 21 to July 30 has been established by a royal decree, issued in accordance with a decision reached by the council of ministers at its session Saturday. The publication is prohibited of information regarding the formation, movements or assignments of units of the army, navy and aerial forces, or even of soldiers and sailors.

Even scientific discussions of military questions come under the ban, as well as criticisms of the army or navy.

Your Boys and Girls

It is important to use the best pure cast soap for baby's clothes as the alkali of soap in the ordinary pale yellow soaps is too strong, making the clothes a bad color and tending to irritate the child's tender skin. The soap must be grated on a penny grater, or thinly shredded, and dissolved in boiling water.

Prepare the washing and rinsing waters before commencing the washing operations, so that the work can be carried through speedily. Pour dissolved soap into the washing waters, and add one tablespoonful of ammonia to every gallon of water, excepting for colored woollens.

Knead and squeeze the woolen article in the water, being careful to avoid rubbing it, or it will harden and thicken. When clean, rinse in plenty of water, with ammonia added, and finally dip in very pale blue warm water. Wring and partly dry in moderate heat, and when nearly dry iron on the wrong side with a warm iron, pressing very firmly.

From the time of its birth the child's mouth should be cleansed morning and evening. To accomplish this use tepid water and salt, or water made slightly alkaline with a pinch of powdered borax. A small piece of soft linen cloth may be wrapped around the forefinger, dipped in the water and gently rubbed about the child's mouth.

When the temporary teeth are all out which is usually at the age of two years, a soft brush should be used morning, noon and night with the alkaline water, brushing the teeth carefully in order to reach all the grooves. At the age of three the child should be given a brush and taught to use it properly. The tooth brush should be concave in shape so as to adapt itself to the curves of the jaws. The bristles should be medium.

Of course the child will regard the brush as a plaything at first, but it will soon become a habit to imitate mother and brush the teeth upon rising, after each meal and before retiring. The mother should emphasize the fact that it is just as necessary to keep the teeth clean as the hands. Indeed, it is really more important for soiled hands will not cause half the mischief that soiled teeth will, and just because they are out of sight is no reason why they should be out of mind; any more than hands or face.

Often girls write and ask why boys seem to like the girls who permit familiarity more than they do the girls who are modest. One girl said in her letter that in order to be popular a girl had to be what she called loud. Now despite these letters, I do not believe that the majority of boys prefer the noisy girls who permit them to be unduly familiar, to the well-bred, pleasant girls who expect to be treated with respect. I think the girls who send these letters have been unfortunate in the boys whom they know.

I am sure that there are many boys who remember when they are with girls that they should accord them the same courteous, chivalrous treatment that they would want their sisters to receive. But in the exuberance of youth, many boys, and some of them are well-intentioned, are betrayed into a boisterousness and a fondness of demeanor not consistent with good breeding.

These young girls who complain of the low standards of the boys have not met the best class of boys. If they had they would not feel that in order to return the friendship and admiration of the boys they would have to sacrifice their maidenly dignity.

TOWBOAT ORIOLE BURNED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Pittsburgh, Pa., March 29.—Fire of unknown origin early today destroyed the towboat Oriole and badly damaged the towboat Ford City and a derrick boat moored in the Allegheny river. The loss was estimated at $51,000.

A Message To Women

Those of Middle Age Especially.

When you have found no remedy for the horrors that oppress you during change of life, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break, when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, depressed and suffer from those dreadful bearing down pains, don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy, and has carried hundreds of women safely through this critical period.

Read what these three women say:

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak."

"I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling better every day. Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get health from your medicine as I did."—Mrs. A. HORNUNG, 91 Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Made Me Well and Strong.

MACEDON, N. Y.—"I was all run down and very thin in flesh, nervous, no appetite, could not sleep and was weak, and felt badly all the time. The doctors said I had poor blood and what I had was turning to water. I took different medicines which did not help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, and I am recommending it to my friends."—Mrs. FRED CHACE, R. No. 2, Macedon, N. Y.

The Change of Life.

BELTSVILLE, Md.—"By the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I have successfully passed through a most trying time, the Change of Life. I suffered with a weakness, and had to stay in bed three days at a time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to perfect health, and I am praising it for the benefit of other women who suffer as I did."—Mrs. W. S. DUVALL, Route No. 1, Beltsville, Md.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

DO YOU KNOW WHY --- The Wild West Had Nothing On The Present Day?

Drawn for this paper By Fisher

REASONS WHY THE CITY SHOULD BUY CURRENT

1. Because It is much cheaper for the city to buy current than to make it.

2. Because the bonded indebtedness of the city at the present time is nearly $1,100,000 and the limit will soon be reached.

3. Because the tax levy is now too high, being thirteen mills and the limit is 15 mills.

4. Because the city will of necessity have to make certain costly improvements in the near future.

5. Because it will take an expensive and technical department out of politics.

10. Because the maintenance of the poles and wires and lamps and all the distribution system by the city keeps the city in a position to build a plant at any time the purchasing of current is not satisfactory.

11. Because it is good business and common sense
 Remember, Men of Newark, that the Special Election to decide whether or not to issue $30,000 worth of electric light bonds will be held next Tuesday, March 30th.

6. Because the price of 11 mills per K. W. H. or $4192.88 is less than the cost of coal.

7. Because the price of 11 mills is only about one-half of the cost of making current at Columbus in the city plant.

8. Because a new plant would cost much more than the estimated cost.

9. Because the city might at any time have an accident or break down at its plant which would cost it more than to buy the current for two years.

GAS, HEARTBURN, INDIGESTION OR A SICK STOMACH

Time it! Pape's Diapepsin will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach surely within five minutes. LADIES DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Look years younger! Use Grandmother's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know. The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Woods' Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant. Agents Hall's drug store.

COLLISIONS

IN QUICK SUCCESSION RESULTS IN SAME SHIP DAMAGING TWO OTHERS.

No Passengers Hurt in Either Accident—One of Vessels Sank in 15 Minutes.

(Associated Press Telegram) New Orleans, March 29.—Divers today were making efforts to float the British steamship Parisian, rammed by the passenger steamer Heredia off the mouth of the Mississippi Saturday night. The Parisian is seriously damaged and rivermen say it was only the fact that she was aground on a mud bank when she struck that prevented her from sinking. The Heredia with her bow plates badly sprung, is at her dock here. The vessel brought 38 passengers and the crew of the steamship Theodore Weems, which also was rammed and sunk by the Heredia within a few minutes after she struck the Parisian. No one was hurt in either of the collisions, although the Weems sank in 15 minutes. The Heredia's passengers are expected to proceed to Panama on the Abangarez late today. Among them is Major General Leonard Wood, on his way to confer with canal zone officers in regard to canal defenses.

WILL TEST LAW CLOSING POOL ROOMS SUNDAYS.

To test the laws under which local police have been closing all pool and billiard parlors, Robert Darnes, operating a pool room in South Second street, was arrested Sunday on a charge of keeping his place open. He gave bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance for hearing Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Local pool room proprietors agreed that one of their number should keep open, submit to arrest and carry the case to the higher courts to test the extent of the law which they claim is not clear.

RICHARDSON PAYS HEAVY TOLL CHARGES

Two Messages Cost Him $29 Above the Regular Rate But He Paid Without a Murmur.

R. S. Richardson, arrested Saturday afternoon in the Arcade on a charge of using brass checks in the place of coins in operating a slot machine in the telephone booth, paid dearly for his attempted fraud when he was fined $25 and costs in police court and compelled to pay the regular toll fee besides. Bell telephone employees who emptied the coin box in one of the Arcade booths, found several brass checks last week and the matter was reported to the police. Chief Sheridan caused the cash box to be emptied again Saturday and kept a close watch. Soon after Richardson entered the booth, used the telephone and was detained by the Chief until the box could be examined again. Only the brass checks were found and Richardson was the only man who had used the booth. He was locked up on a charge of fraud. At his room in the hotel police officers found a number of other checks of the same kind. When arraigned in police court Monday, Richardson pleaded guilty, was fined $25 and costs and ordered to pay the company for the telephone messages. It cost him more than $30 for the two messages Saturday.

FRENCH WARSHIPS OFF FOR REPAIRS

(Associated Press Telegram) Paris, March 29.—The French battleships Suffren and Gaulois, which were badly damaged by the fire from Turkish batteries in the bombardment of the Dardanelles forts by the allied fleet on March 18, have left for Toulon. A French navy base to be repaired in the drydock there, according to a special dispatch from Athens.

No attack was made in the straits Sunday, the dispatch says, but a Franco-British fleet and the Russian cruiser Askold bombarded the Bulair line of forts from the Gulf of Saros.

Jesse Lower, 39, was killed Saturday when caught under a heavy log while cutting timber near Co-hocton.

IS YOUR DAUGHTER PALE?

Does she inherit a delicate organization from you? The anemia of young girls may be inherited or it may be caused by bad air, lack of proper food, inefficient out-of-door exercise, hasty and irregular eating and not enough rest and sleep. It comes on gradually, beginning with languor, inattention to mental or bodily exertion, irritability and a feeling of fatigue. Later comes paleness of the face and heart and headache. In a majority of cases constipation is present. Often the patient craves unusual things to eat, such as starch or chalk. There may be no loss of flesh but the complexion takes on a greenish-yellow pallor.

There is no need to worry in a case of this kind. The treatment is easy and simple. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, non-alcoholic and free from any harmful drugs, are just the tonic to remedy this condition. Improvement begins with the first dose. As the blood is made rich and red the peculiar pallor leaves the face, strength and activity gradually return and if the treatment is continued until the last symptom disappears the danger of relapse is slight. A booklet, "Building Up the Blood," which tells all about this treatment, will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

CERTAIN RESULTS

Many a Newark Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Newark. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical doubter. Read the following statement:

Mrs. C. J. Macklin, 136 1-2 Valandingham street, Newark says: "I had a severe case of kidney complaint while I was living in West Virginia. I suffered greatly from backache and couldn't sweep the house or do washing on Monday. I had dreadful pains across my loins. Several times I had to go to bed I was so weak. I also had dizzy spells and headaches. I tried several remedies, but nothing helped me until I took Doan's Kidney Pills. They made my back strong and greatly improved my health."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Macklin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

An effort to postpone the case was unsuccessful. Indications were that little time would be lost in selecting the jury.

PREMIER

OF HUNGARY REFUSES TO EMBLEM AUSTRIAN EMPEROR TO MAKE SEPARATE PEACE

Different Hungarian Political Parties Believe Italy's Intervention With Allies, is Inevitable.

(Associated Press Telegram) Geneva, Via Paris, March 29.—Count Stephan Tisza, the premier of Hungary, has returned to Buda Pest, from Vienna, where he conferred with cabinet ministers regarding the future course of the dual monarchy. According to dispatches received by Swiss newspapers, the leaders of different political parties are trying to induce Count Tisza to make an effort to persuade Emperor Francis Joseph that Austria should conclude a separate peace. The premier, however, is said to have refused to make such an attempt.

Advices received here from Austria are to the effect that well informed public men in that country profess to believe that the intervention of Italy on the side of the allies is imminent. Count Andrássy, former Hungarian premier, is said to be one of those who no longer attempts to conceal his concern.

Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg of Germany, the Swiss newspapers declare, remains inflexible in his determination that Austria shall sacrifice some of her territory to preserve the neutrality of Italy. The Austrian emperor is reported to be equally determined not to cede to Italy any material portion of the monarchy.

Reports from Bucharest regarding the attitude of Roumania, it is said, have increased the alarm in Austro-Hungarian political circles.

YOUTHS ADMIT GUILT IN CLUB BURGLARY CASE

Arthur Lane, 16 and Wayne Green 18 were taken into custody Monday morning by Officers Hurlough and Abbott following information revealed Saturday in the police investigation of the burglary of the Licking Country club house several weeks ago. Green was before Police Chief Sheridan once before during the investigation but was allowed to go when his employer declared to the officers that the boy was at work when the job was committed. Both confessed to the police this morning.

At the time of the burglary entrance was forced at the club house and the locker room was raided. Practically every locker in the place was broken open. The boys finding it impossible to force the lockers, climbed to the top of the lockers, and pried up the top.

A number of articles of clothing were taken, also a valuable watch besides a cadet bag, pajamas and some tools. A fine sweater, belonging to E. R. Manning was included in the loot. This sweater was recovered by the police Monday.

In the early part of the investigation the police were confident that Green was implicated but were non-puzzled when it was declared that the boy worked all day the job was done. The investigation was pursued further but it failed to lead back to Green. Finally the two boys were arrested, again questioned closely by Police Chief Sheridan and finally admitted their part in the job.

Lane probably will be turned over to the juvenile court. He lives in Columbus street. Green resides in West Newark and his case no doubt will come before Mayor Bigbee.

Both Lane and Green were assigned before juvenile judge Hunter Monday afternoon and both were ordered committed to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster. They have been in the Lancaster school heretofore.

George Hunter took occasion to tell the father of Green, who was in court, what the duties of a parent toward his children were. Green offered to help pay the damage done to the lockers of the Country club if his boy was permitted to remain in Newark.

ARE CURRENT BUYING ARGUMENTS SOUND ARGUMENTS?

Mr. Heisey in his article in Saturday's paper says that the city ought to buy current because the American Bottle Company has decided that it can buy current cheaper than it can make it.

If Mr. Heisey feels that way about it, why is it that he is making his own current for his own glass plant instead of buying it from the Ohio Light & Power Company?

Why is it that the Wehrle Company is making its own current instead of buying it from the Light Company?

It is claimed that we ought to buy current from that Ohio Light & Power Company because it has a large plant and can make it cheaper than we can with a small plant.

That argument might have some strength if we could buy it for about what it costs to make it. But who knows how much it costs them to make it, and who knows how much difference there is between what it costs them to make it and what they are offering to sell it to the city for?

Who knows how much the American Bottle Company is paying the light company for their current?

How much less are they paying than the light company is offering to sell it to the city for?

TRUE COST AT COLUMBUS PLANT

Time after time during this electric light campaign the current buying advocates have misrepresented to the public the amount it cost the city of Columbus to produce its current. In all of these statements the total cost of the Columbus lighting plant, including the generation of the electricity and the cost and maintenance of poles, wires, lamps, labor and everything else that goes to make up the expense of the entire lighting system, have been announced to the public as being the costs of producing the current. In 1913 the most expensive year Columbus ever had with its lighting plant on account of the great damage done to the generating plant by being under water, it cost the city of Columbus less than 7 mills per K. W. to produce its current. The following are the figures taken from the 1913 report of the Municipal lighting plant of the city of Columbus, pp. 17-18:

Total, generation service and expense, $44,916
Total K. W. hours at switchboard, 6,723,749.00
Cost per K. W. Hour, .006682

You will remember that you have been told over and over that it cost the city of Columbus .02488 per K. W. to manufacture current during 1913. Whereas as in truth and in fact that was the cost of the entire system for that expensive year. The cost of manufacturing the current being less than 7 mills as shown above.

A copy of the Columbus light plant report for 1913
may be seen at the office of the Director of Public Service of this city.

Jas. Linehan and W. M. Morgan Investigate Cost of Producing Electric Current In Newark

Editor of The Advocate—As taxpayers we are interested in the economic administration of our city affairs and the lowest possible tax rate for the city, also the welfare of the consumers.

Believing there has been too much prejudice and sentiment in the discussions of the propositions as to whether we should purchase current of The Ohio Light and Power Company or install the necessary machinery in connection with our city water plant to produce current for the city, we decided to investigate the method of the sale of current by the Ohio Light and Power company and the cost of production of current by large and small plants.

Through the courtesy of the proprietor of the Sparta Confectionery we were shown his plant and the bills covering the cost of producing current. The rates he paid The Ohio Light and Power company for the eight and one-half years he purchased current from them varied from 8-6 to 4 1-2 per kilowatt hour. The latter price he stated was secured because of persistent objections to the high monthly current bills.

At the 4 1-2 per kilowatt hour rate the cost of current to supply 30 lights and operate his fans varied from $20 to $27 per month, current for the operation of his ice cream freezers from $2.50 to $3.00 per month additional, making the total cost for current for his place of business from $22 to $30 per month. In order to keep the cost of those figures he stated it was necessary to have some one pay close attention to the consumption of current and turn off some light when really needed. He decided to install his own plant. The Ohio Light and Power company's representatives used almost every means to discourage him from doing so, stating that it would be an expensive undertaking and that he could buy current from them at a lower cost than he could produce it. He, however, installed his plant at a cost for gas engine and generator, guaranteed for twenty years, all complete for $1500. This plant has been operated over two years and after paying the regular rate of 22 1-2 cents net for gas and all costs of operation included, he now produces current for three times the previous number of lights, 150 in all, also operates his ice cream freezer, fans, organ and cash register and without regard to economy in the consumption of current is producing it at a little less than $10 per month on an average. His saving for ten years by reason of installation of his own plant would be approximately $2300. We discovered that another firm of the same kind was paying 8 cents at the same time the Sparta was paying 4 1-2 cents per kilowatt hour.

We learned that large plants that are not encumbered with the overhead cost of high-salaried officials, all other costs included, as would be the case with the proposed city plant, produce current at a cost of 1-2 cent per kilowatt hour.

We have heard so much about the American Bottle company, why don't they say something about other firms operating their own plants? We would be especially interested in learning the price current is furnished to the American Bottle company for, under their contract.

In view of our investigation and of the facts ascertained, we have arrived at the conclusion that our city's best interests will be conserved by the adoption of the bond issue for the installation of the proposed plant.
